3rd S. of Easter
Angels

There's a popular saying to the effect that God has a special providence ~~that~~ takes care of children, of drunks, and, some people add, of Americans. This is only a slight departure from the doctrine of guardian angel. This doctrine states that to each child that is born a guardian angel is assigned. There is no conclusive evidence in Scripture to support such a doctrine.

The ministry of angels among men belongs in the past, except in Hollywood, where every now & then an enterprising producer comes out with a 20th century angel, like the one portrayed by Mr. Cary Grant a few years ago - an angel that had to be recalled ^{to heaven} in a hurry.

because he was falling in love with four young.

In real life ^{direct} angelic intervention no longer occurs.

Angels, with rare exceptions, belong in Old Testament times, in the same sense in which John the Baptist is an Old Testament character.
